There is a monthly Committee meeting that we would ask you to attend, help out with counter duties for approximately 30 minutes on a Saturday if you come to training and to assist on the Induction table when new members join the club once a month. There would be other little jobs you may be allocated on a Sunday, at our Obedience Trial or other event.

Full training will be provided to all Volunteers

What dogs hear when we talk to them

By Virginia Morell Jan. 10, 2017, 7:15 PM

We often say the same sweet, nonsensical things to our dogs that we say to our babies—and in almost the same slow, high-pitched voice. Now, scientists have shown that puppies find our pooch-directed speech exciting, whereas older dogs are somewhat indifferent. The findings show, for the first time, that young dogs respond to this way of talking, and that it may help them learn words—as such talk does with human babies.

To find out how dogs reacted to human speech, Nicolas Mathevon, a bioacoustician at the University of Lyon in Saint Étienne, France, and his colleagues first recorded the voices of 30 women as they looked at a dog's photograph and read from a script, "Hi! Hello cutie! Who's a good boy? Come here! Good boy! Yes! Come here sweetie pie! What a good boy!" (The scientists were afraid the women would ad lib if they spoke to a real dog.) The women also repeated the passage to a person.

When the scientists compared the human- and dog-directed speech, they found that, as expected, the women spoke in distinctive, high-pitched, sing-song tones to the pooches—but not the humans. "It didn't matter if it was a puppy or an adult dog," Mathevon says. But the women did speak at an even higher pitch when looking at puppy photos.

Next, the researchers played these recordings in short trials with 10 puppies and 10 adult dogs at a New York City animal shelter and videotaped their responses. Nine of the puppies reacted strongly, barking and running toward the loudspeaker even when the recording had been made for an older dog, the team reports today in the Proceedings of the Royal Society B. Some even bent toward the loudspeaker in a play bow, a pose meant to initiate horseplay, suggesting they may regard dog-directed speech as "an invitation to play," Mathevon says. The puppies were less interested in the recordings of the women speaking to the person. And the adult dogs? "They didn't care at all," Mathevon says. It made no difference if they heard speech directed at puppies, older dogs, or humans. "They had a quick look at the speaker, and then ignored it."

The scientists aren't sure why the adult dogs were so disinterested. It may be that they need to interact with an actual person, not a disembodied voice, or that they need to hear a familiar voice, Mathevon says. But for the puppies, the women's exaggerated, high-pitched, dog-directed speech served a purpose: "It got their attention," says Mathevon, who thinks this way of talking may help them learn words, just as our baby talk helps human infants learn language. Other research, however, disputes this idea.

Still, the study shows that even in our speech "we care for and treat dogs of all ages like human infants," which is likely "an important part of their success in human environments," says Monique Udell, an animal behaviorist at Oregon State University in Corvallis who was not involved with the work.

The scientists don't yet know whether puppies have an innate response to dog-directed speech or whether it is something they learn. It will also take further study to figure out whether the words in dog-directed speech mean something more to the puppies, or whether it helps them learn words. In the meantime, when you speak doggy to your puppy, be sure you're ready to play.

WHAT IS A FUNDAY?

FUNDAYS REPLACE OUR NORMAL TRAINING DAY AND IS OPEN TO ALL MEMBERS

This is your chance to demonstrate in a one on one situation of your training progression so far. For classes puppy to 3, instructors of the club will put you and your faithful companion through a series of exercises that you have been doing in your class each week. For those in class 4 or higher the club endeavours to invite external judges to judge on the day

If you gain a qualifying score or better, you will be promoted up to the next class level. Should you win your class or even gain a second or third placing you will be acknowledged by receiving a trophy and ribbon for first place and a ribbon for second or third. BUT, you won't know if you're a grinner unless you stay for presentation

ENTRY FORMS & FEES ARE TAKEN AT THE OFFICE COUNTER

Entry fee is $2 per dog and includes a sausage sizzle

$2 must be paid at the time of entry

IT IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY TO ENTER IN YOUR CORRECT CLASS LEVEL

PLEASE NOTE: IF YOU DO NOT OFFICIALLY ENTER, YOU CANNOT PARTICIPATE ON THE DAY. THERE IS NO NORMAL TRAINING ON THIS DAY

Due to the exercises required for Rally Obedience, you are only eligible to participate if you are in Class 4 or higher

Competitors please note that the Rally Obedience and Agility results WILL NOT be included in any Club Awards presented at the end of the year

Voluntary help from our membership will be required with setting up and pulling down of rings, check-in and general odd jobs throughout the day

We will also have a Raffle on the day to raise funds for the club. Last of all, your committee and your instructors also wish to participate with their dogs so there may be delays / hold-ups within your ring if your judge has to compete with his dog in another ring. Please be patient. If it's a nice day bring a rug, chairs, dog stake or crate and if wet, bring your wet weather gear and have a great day

GIVE ME SPACE

We occasionally have dogs at the club that require some 'space' around them. Like people, all dogs are different and some dogs don't cope very well when their space is encroached upon by handlers or other dogs. These 'Give Me Space' vests are not exclusively for dogs with aggression issues, but also for dogs that may have fear-based behaviours. To identify these dogs, they wear a yellow vest, similar to the picture above

By a dog wearing these space vests the club believes it is a safe way for the dog to still participate in their class and slowly socialise and integrate within their training class. This also makes the class as safe as possible for all handlers and their dogs and instructors too. Remember, we are working with animals, so we need you, our members, to learn to recognise when these dogs are wearing these vests and give them the space that they require. If you are around the clubrooms or in class and see a dog with a vest on, please assist the handler and their dog by keeping your dog at least 1 metre away. You may be asked to move further away by the owner or Instructor if they feel you are too close, please respect their request

If you believe your dog would benefit from wearing a space vest, please discuss it with the Chief Instructor. Please do not get offended if your dog is asked to wear a 'space vest' in class. We have vests for small dogs and up to large dogs
